COMPANY PROFILE:

For past years, we have been helping buyers across the globe source stainless steel drinkware that works – on brief, on brand, and on time. We work with a selected network of manufacturing partners, which means we are not limited to a single factory or product range. This gives our clients access to competitive pricing, consistent quality, and the flexibility to find the right solution – whether that is a stock item ready for fast turnaround, or a custom design built around a specific campaign. We specialise in stainless steel drinkware for campaigns, corporate giveaways, and retail programs. We understand what this kind of sourcing demands: deadlines that cannot slip, logo placement that has to be right, and quality that holds up when it reaches the end consumer. Every order comes with straightforward communication, realistic timelines, and a team that stays with you from first inquiry to final delivery.
